Supt. Parsons Makes Excuses for the Appparently Extravagant Outlay.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT'S SALARY

Object Lesson in Fluctuations of Compensation of the Engineers of Construction.

The instalment of "eloquent figures," given in "The Evening World" to-day, show that $27,532.42 of the million-dollar appropriation, were spent between March last and the end of October, in a very small section of Central Park, cov-ering the territory between Seventh and Eighth avenues, and from One Hundred and Fourth to One Hundred and Tenth

This is the corner of the Park to which the least attention has been given in improvements up to the present year, probably because it is not frequented much by the public.

What has been accomplished by the ex-penditure of the $27,532.43 during the last six months, is necessary to determine. There have been few improvements. Where the work charged for could have been put is a inystery.

The tables show that a large force of laborers was employed there continual-ly. Of the total amount shown above, $25,555.75 was paid paid out alone in

The landscape architect, as well as engineer of construction, figure largely on the pay ro'ls. The former's compensation appears, as will be seen by examining the table, to have fluctuated widely. For March he received padlocked cases, to Cala.

148.30, and in May only $16.13, while in by the Minister of War. For March he received June his pay jumped up to $150. It was A peculiar circumstance is to be noted the landscape architects' compensa-for September, Two items are credited to his account, one of $857.77 for service for the seven days preceding Sept. 15, and another for $229.06 for the Sept. 15, and another for $229.06 for the fifteen days preceding the same date, while another payment of $103.27 was made for apparently the same services for the entire month.

Bupt Parsons has already explained that the services of the landscape architect depend upon the amount of constructive work going on, and that when any extensive improvement was contemplated, there was usually an increase in the expenses of experts. It would seem as if a large corps of architects had been engaged in September, from the amount of bills they submitted, and paid.

tects had been engaged in September, from the amount of bills they auminited, and paid.

The compensation of the engineer of construction also presents marked and peculiar fluctuations, explained by Supt. Parsons in the same way. For instance, for the eleven days ending May 31, this item in the account is only $3.22; for fifteen days in June the engineer received $6.67 but he made it up in July 21 and August with bills of $155.27 and $219.80 respectively. He followed this up with one of $119.52 for September.

In furnishing supplies for the work in this northwestern corner of the Park, William Young comes in with several big bills for grass sod. In June he sold the Department $400 worth, while in July 15 there were three separate instalments of sod delivered, for which he charged the city $300, $200 and $100 respectively. This shows a total of $1,000 for grass sod in theis locality alone in less than a month.

Supt. Parsons says the Sicilian Asphalt Company's men are not now employed by the Department in laying asphalt walks in the parks. They are employed by the city directly now. As a matter of fact, they are the same men who were formerly in the employ of the Company.

"We must have skilled workmen for were formerly in the simpley of that class of work," he said to an "Evening World" reporter, "and you can only find such men among those who have been brought up to the business in the employment of some of the companies in the asphalt trade.

"As a matter of fact, such workmen are very scarce. We have had great difficulty in getting a sufficient number to push along the work as fast as we would like to do" watching the work to allow such practises to go on undetected for any length of time is the first time I have heard any charges of that kind, and I am confident that they can be proved to be without foundation."

He did not believe that labor tickets issued to the Department had been dealt in to any great extent. Some of those who originally received them, he said, had sold them to others, and the discovery had led to the impression that there might have been a wholesale traific in such tickets.

Commissioner Shields follows the precedent established by United States District Court Judge Cox in his decision in the case of Chung Fung Sun, recently. Like Chung Fung Sun, Lee Yuen, though admittedly a cigar-maker, and therefore a laborer, claimed a right to land because he had invested $1,000 of his savings in the Chinese mercantile firm of Quong Shing Yuen & Co., 5 Mott street, New York, Lee Yuen worked after completing his labors as a cigar-maker by day about the store at night and on Sundays. Judge Cox held that a Chinese cannot be both a laborer and a merchant.

The decision affects many similar cases all over the country, and does away with Chinese laborers investing their savings in Chinese stores, and thus posing as merchants entitled to a re-landing on their return from a visit to China.

Charges Against Col. Fellews Were Brought By Way of Revenge.

TROUBLE OF LONG STANDING

The Committee Has Sent Its Request to Fiewer, and Fellews Has Attached His Signature.

The charges preferred against District Attorney Fellows have brought to ligh the fact that there is a fight on between the Good Government Club and the Committee of LXX. Members of the Good Government organization allege that the LXX. people have usurped power and taken all the credit belonging to and due to the Good Government Club.

The trouble has been brewing since before election, but broke out afresh when the Committee announced a short time ago that it would remain in ex-who were in the old City Reform Organization.

At the conference which was held at the Coleman House the first week in September, Gustav Schwab and Herman Ridder quarrelled over Schwab's alleged ambition to run the German Reform Union and the Ottendorfer faction. It is claimed that Schwab's wings were clipped, and that ha was completely turned down.

The conference adjourned, with the explicit understanding that nothing more should be done until after the various parties had held their conventions and named committees to another conference.

various paries has a sent tons and named committees to another conference.

Less than a week had passed when Schwab called a meeting in the Madison Square Music Hall, which led to the formation of the Committee of LXX. Then the kicking in the Good Government Club was great. War was declared against Schwab, and by way of purification some fifteen members of the Good Government Club were placed on the Committee. They were Fuiton McMahon, W. Harris Roome, J. Augustus Johnson, Julius Steinburger, W. Travers Jerome, Isaac H. Klein, John D. Faure, William J. Schieffelin, Chas. Taber, Mat J. Lissauer, Richard Deeves, L. J. Callanan, A. H. Ely, Louis L. Delafield and Thomas A. Fulton.

This move did not satisfy the members, however, but the older heads counselled that nothing be said or done until after election, as it would have a tendency to injure the anti-Tammany movement.

The matter wested there. As soon as mittee announced that it would remain in existence.

"We had laid all our plans to go for Fellows," said the member of the Good Government Club, "and you can imagine how we felt when we found the Committee steeping in. Why, some of the five of our members who have preferred charges against Fellows are members of the LNX. and were put on at Schwab's solicitation.

unless it is to further Mr. Schwab's interest."

Chairman Larocque, of the LXX.'s Sub-Committee, which is endeavoring to have Gov Flower instruct the Attorney-General to conduct the election cases and push the charges against delinquent city officials in New York, said fals morning that he did not think the unexpected charges brought against District-Attorney Fellows by Good Government men would prevent their plans being carried out.

"In fact." said Mr. Larocque. "It seems to me that since Col. Fellows must now devote considerable of his time to defending himself, there is additional reason why these important prosecutions should be conducted by the Attorney-General."

At a meeting of the Sub-Committee last night, the following letter was written and sent to the Governor:

The first shock was most severe, being accom-panied by rumbling noises, and sim-ultaneously a sheet of flame was observed in the eastern heavens. Several persons saw smoke issuing from Mount acoma yesterday morning. Prof. F. C. Plummer, a local scientist, quake phenomena in the Northwest, in Puyallup reservation, said, through an interpreter, before the Tacoma Academy of Science, on Feb. 6, 1888, that he had many times seen fire and smoke coming out of Mount Tacoma. Gen. John C. Fremont reported on Nov. 12, 1843, that Mount Tacoma was in erup-peak from Tacoma, and from Olympia, or Yelm Prairie, it shows its three peaks in outline.

Eight days is the least time in which an experienced climber can make the round trip from either Seattle or Tacoma to the summit of Mount Rainler and return.

The first attempt to climb the mountain was made by Dr. William Frazer Toimie, a Hudson Bay Company surgeon, in 1833. He reached Toimie Peak, by way of Crater Lake, on the Northwest slope. Lieut. A. V. Kantz reached the South Peak in 1857; F. R. Van Trump and Hazard Stevens reached the Dome or Crater Peak in August, 1870, and at the close of 1892 thirty-eight climbers were known to have reached the summit.

One woman, Miss Fay Fuller, reached the Dome in August, 1890.

The mountain was named for Rear-Admiral Rainier, one of the British Lords of the Admiralty, it having been discovered by Vancouver in 1792. Gen. Fremont saw it smoking in 1842 and referred to it as Regnier, believing it had been named after Lieut. Regnier, of Marchand's expedition.
